87 Oak Grove 2007 Reserve Pinot Grigio (California); $8. Here's a Pinot Grigio that fulfills the variety's basic responsibilities of dryness, crispness and a clean mouthfeel. It's a drily brisk, racy wine, with suggestions of ripe pink grapefruit, lemongrass and honey-suckle.

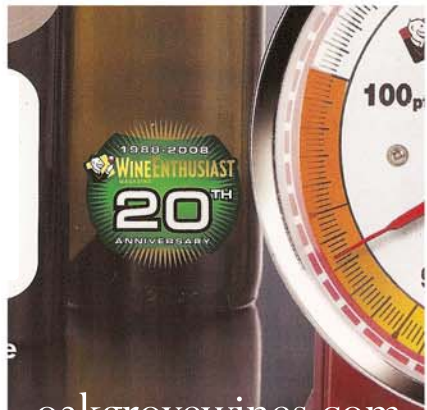

89 Oak Grove 2007 Reserve Viognier (California); $8. Kudos to Oak Grove for making such a nice wine at this everyday price. Drinks crisp in acidity and dry, with an ultraclean, spicy finish. Flavorwise, you'll find grilled nectarines and pineapples, with a touch of vanilla. This is a tremendous value.

87 Oak Grove 2007 Reserve Sauvignon Blanc (California); $8. The acidity on this wine is so racy, it makes your mouth water. Fortunately, there's real richness, as well. Delivers citrus, fig and Asian spice flavors that finish with a touch of sweet vanilla.

85 Oak Grove 2007 Reserve Chardonnay (California); $8. A good, everyday Chard and, at this price, a nice value. Shows spicy pear, peach and tropical fruit flavors, in a creamy texture. Enriched with a touch of smoky vanilla cream.
